DETAILED ACTION

Priority

1. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1, 2, 4-9, and 11-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Takano et al. (USP 5,677,615). Takano discloses an AC/DC adaptor (inherent), a switching power converter, 22, and a power supply controller, 60, with CPU controller, battery and battery charger.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 3 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Takano et al. (USP 5,677,615) in view of Gephart et al. (USP 4,709,318). Takano discloses the claimed device (see above) except for the use of an oscillator that utilizes a triangular wave. Gephart discloses that it is known in the art to provide the use of an oscillator that utilizes a triangular wave. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the use of an oscillator that utilizes a triangular wave of Gephart with the battery charger device of Takano, in order to facilitate in the transferring of energy from the battery to the node when the enabled and for selectively effecting the charge of the battery from energy at the node.
